Chamber of Commerce And Agriculture

By W. S. BACKMAN

Agriculture, including livestock, horticulture, field crops, agricultural, engineering, and home economy, is one of our most important industries. Thousands of people are rural residents in Alberta.

Many who are not directly associated with agriculture receive employment because of the wealth produced on the farms. New wealth produced by agriculture in the Province amounted to $517 millions in one year. It was over 50 per cent of the total new production in Alberta amounting to one billion, one hundred million dollars. Manufacturing and industrial production accounted for 436 million dollars. The total new wealth for natural resources including oil, gas and coal, amounted to 146 millions. Much can be done by local Boards of Trade and Chambers in fostering our basic industry. Many have sponsored or have been associated with projects devised to improve local agriculture and to bring the farmer and other business men closer together.

The food we eat and many raw materials come from the farms. The rural communities represent purchasing power that is important to commerce and industry. Purchasing power can be increased by greater production and improved quality resulting from organized efforts to improve livestock, machinery and higher quality of seed. Everything that is done to increase farm income will have a beneficial effect on the stability and expansion of business activities in a community.

In the past two weeks important agricultural events have been sponsored or encouraged by Chambers or Boards. Machinery competitions and demonstrations at Trochu and Morrin were among these. The Junior Beef Club Show and Sale at Drumheller was encouraged by local business men.

The Agricultural Debate at Three Hills last week, was an excellent example of Board of Trade encouragement to our basic industry. Seed Fairs and Agricultural Short Courses are other activities that the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring. Seed cleaning plants are others and have been of great value in some communities.

In a recent letter from the president of the Chamber of Commerce at Yorkton, he states: "This Board has always tried to carry on an active progressive program, that would offer improvement and stability to farming. The Seed Cleaning Plant and Seed Fair are the largest activities this Board has successfully carried out in the past three years. No business that could be started would bring more "Strange Customers" than the seed house. Farmers come from all parts of the area. For many it is the first trip. All are potential customers, at least for once, and many will come again, for other reasons too, when they see what the business men have to offer."

Our feet are in the earth. What happens to the top six inches of soil is important, not only to the farmer, but also to the grocer, druggist, elevator agent, machinery man, in fact everybody. The conservation of soil and moisture is one of our most important problems. This was emphasized by both sides of the Board of Trade debate. It is too big a problem for farmers to solve by themselves, but must be tackled by trained soils men and with the active support and help of every business man. Education in soil conservation must be carried on in every community. Chambers and Boards have a great opportunity to co-operate with other agencies in bringing the results of research to the farmers and making them effective through application on a community-wide basis.

The most valuable assets we have are the young people. From this group will come our leaders of tomorrow. How they develop mentally, spiritually and physically will determine what kind of a community we shall have. The environment we provide for them will have a great influence on their character and the future of the community.

The future of agriculture depends on the young people and how many of them stay on the farm. The interests which they develop and their opportunities for getting greater knowledge and training in agriculture are important. Modern conveniences in farm homes may determine their decision to stay on the farm. Agricultural fairs and achievement days will give technical knowledge to young people which will create a permanent interest in agriculture. In making farm life more attractive we will encourage more of our young people to stay on the farm. Others may take up farming as a career. It is necessary to point out the important contribution that farmers are making in our economy.

Every Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce has an opportunity for achievement in uniting rural and urban people in a common effort for their mutual benefit. The need for co-operation and understanding is greater than ever before.

Beiseker Couple Wed At Pretty Bridal

St. Mary's church, Beiseker, was the scene of a pretty wedding Thursday, June 14, when Edna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ternes, Beiseker, became the bride of Frank Joseph Hagel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hagel, Beiseker. Rev. Fr. Tennant offered the nuptial mass. The Senior choir sang, accompanied by Mrs. Lou Brosteaux.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of white nylon trimmed with lace, long lily-point sleeves, full flowing skirt, three-quarter veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her only jewellery was a beautiful necklace and earrings to match, a gift from the groom.

She was attended by the bridegroom's sister, Margaret Hagel and her sister, Mrs. Bill DenBoer. The former chose a long gown of yellow nylon; the latter was of yellow taffeta. They wore matching chapel veils decked with rosebuds, three-quarter length gloves to match gown and their bouquets were of yellow carnations.

An Excellent Report

Last week J. W. Welbourn, M.P. for Jasper-Edison, spoke over the Radio in "Report from Parliament Hill". Mr. Welbourn made particular mention of his part in bringing into the House legislation to incorporate a pipeline to the Coast via Edson and Jasper, which no doubt is of particular interest to his own constituents.

However, nearly every other phase of the current session of Parliament was touched upon by this Alberta member, who showed he has a wide knowledge of the work of the session, and Mr. Welbourn is to be congratulated on the fine manner in which he discussed the business of government, which should be the interest of all of us.

Sometimes we feel the average voter has little concept of the really difficult job of representing a constituency at Ottawa. Unlike the Provincial Legislatures, where the session lasts only about six weeks, the Federal House sits usually not less than six months during the year. Members have little time to spend at home, and as more and more business is by popular consent being made the business of government, the members will be in future spending more time—not less—at Ottawa.

It is likely this year that a special fall session will be called to deal with increased old age pensions. If spring and fall sessions were made the regular thing it would relieve members of all parties of the necessity of being away from home for such a long period. Shorter and more frequent sessions would permit members more time to visit their constituents more frequently and thus keep their finger on the pulse of public opinion.

Wheat For India

In reply to criticism of Canada's attitude towards famine conditions in India, Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe told the House of Commons that Canada had already sold India 300,000 tons, or 10,000,000 bushels of wheat this year, as compared to the 50,000 tons that Russia is proposing to send. A short time ago Canada offered India $25,000,000 under the Colombo plan to purchase Canadian wheat, but India declined the offer, preferring to wait until better quality wheat was available.

It is expected that the United States will lend India about $190,000,000 to pay for 2,000,000 tons of American wheat.

Meanwhile, H. A. Vogel, a Food and Agriculture Organization representative, predicted that India could become self-sufficient with regard to food in two years if production was increased by "a marginal amount". The Indian government is aiming at being independent of food imports by 1952.

But most of India's agricultural production is of non-food items such as tea, coffee and cotton. Due to religious beliefs a basic food item of other countries—meat—is not readily eaten by Hindus. "Sacred" cattle roam the countryside consuming growth of grass and other vegetation but are not used for food. In our estimation India is not only overly-optimistic in endeavouring to have independence of other countries in food supplies next year but downright foolish and ungracious in refusing our offer of free wheat.

The Nature Of The Enemy

By T. W. PUE

The most horrible news coming out of the present world situation does not involve the actual fighting in Korea. The most instructive news in this category comes from the mass executions that are being staged continually in the principal cities of China.

T. W. PUE

According to the New York Daily News, Red hellhound flunkies of the Chinese Communist Dictator Mao Tze-tung are forever rounding up actual or suspected enemies of Communism, exhibiting them before propaganda-doped crowds in the public squares, then mowing the poor devils down with machine guns without trial.

These reports are not propaganda cooked up on Chinese Nationalist Formosa or in the British listening post and smugglers' roost of Hong Kong. Mao's government not only openly acknowledges its campaign of extermination against the home opposition but brags about it, and repeatedly calls via the Peiping radio for bigger and better blood purges until there isn't an anti-Red left in mainland China.

Children are encouraged to rat on their parents concerning alleged disloyalty to the new government. Previously respected citizens are fair game for the Red murderers. So are working people who don't kow tow 100% to Mao and his city and village and countryside lieutenants.

What's the explanation? Can these barbarous mass murders be charged off merely to Oriental savagery and the fact that human life has always been held cheap in that part of the world?

"JOIN US OR DIE"

That answer seems not to cover the case, for at least two reasons.

For one, Chiang Kai-shek and other non-Communist war lords in pre-Communist China did not slaughter their opponents wholesale in periods of peace or semi-peace.

For another, there is nothing new in the Red Chinese butcheries to anybody familiar with the history of the Russian 1917-Bolshevik revolution. For several years after 1917, the Russian Reds, too, slaughtered every actual or possible opponent they could lay hands on. And they still stage big though hush-hush purges whenever the Kremlin palace clique suspects a putsch against its power is in the making.

Hook these facts up with Lenin's and Stalin's repeated statements that Communism and Capitalism can't forever live along side by side on the same planet, and we think you get the real explanation of the Red Chinese mass murders.

The explanation, we believe, is that these atrocities stem from the basic nature and philosophy of Communism itself, as dreamed up by Karl Marx and brought to full and poisonous flower by Lenin and Stalin.

One central idea of the Communists is that only people who think and act like Communists have a right to exist. All others are regarded by the Stalins and Maos as enemies who should simply be killed, quickly or slowly, if they refuse to surrender their bodies, minds and souls to the Reds—except the Reds don't admit that people have souls.

THEY'RE AFTER YOU, TOO

This, then, is the nature of the enemy that the non-Communist part of the human race faces, and seems likely to face for quite a while to come.

He's an enemy who thinks the same way wherever you find him—in Russia, Korea, Yugoslavia, New York or Edmonton.

What he thinks is not "He that is with me is against me," but "Him that is not with me I will either remake in my own image or kill, as soon as I can get at him."

As far as the Communists around the world are concerned, all of us non-Reds can choose just one of two things—surrender, or die. And of those who surrender, many will die anyway. Look at what happened to a lot of politicians and intellectuals who tried to make their peace with the Communists in Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, etc.

In a situation like this, what is there for non-Reds everywhere to do but resist, and keep on resisting with all the force necessary until the Kremlin-spawned destroy-the-opposition idea is itself destroyed, throughout the world?

The only legitimate arguments among non-Reds, it seems to us, can be over questions of how to make our resistance most effective at the lowest possible cost in blood, money and material.

There is plenty of room for such debates. But if we lose sight of the central fact that Communists everywhere are out to enslave the world, we're likely to be sunk, and swiftly.

Like all myths, the myth that the Chinese army was full of supermen has finally been broken. They are now surrendering by the thousands.

COLD WAR PROFITS

Dear Sir—Profits of U.S. Industry in 1929 was 61-2 billion dollars. After the start of the cold war, 1948 profits were 33.9 billion dollars; in the third quarter of 1950, after the start of the war in Korea, they were making profits at the unprecedented rate of 43 billion dollars. Is it any wonder that "U.S. News and World Report" gleefully exclaims "War scares are easy to create, and are surefire producers of profitable munitions contracts."

Hamlin. F. E. MARICLE.

BITTER MEDICINE

Dear Sir—Hon. J. Gardiner recently said in the House of Commons that "no one has any right to ask the government to seek higher prices on wheat contracts." And this while MP's are all clamoring for price boosts! Prairie farmers can go bust, but Gardiner says "we must not ask for higher prices. Thrice blessed are the dictators, because they inherit the earth, with the farmers under it, along with freedom of speech and press. Bitter medicine, farmers, from your own doctor."

POLICE ACTION CONFUSION

Dear Sir—I would really appreciate it if someone would tell me what this Korean thing is all about. Where are we going and when will we stop? If we are victorious here, will it really be a crushing blow to Communism? What was the original purpose in committing us to war in Korea? Does this purpose remain unchanged? Is it a war without an end? I have been here in Korea quite awhile and I still don't know the answer to this one.

BETTER MAIL SERVICE

Dear Sir—So Postmaster General Rinfret tells us that he can offer "no rosy promise" of better mail service. This doesn't sound like the same man who boasted several weeks ago that Canada's postal service was getting better and better all the time. Well, it so happens we don't want rosy promises. We want better service, and nothing else. After all, aren't we paying for it?

Edmonton. DISGUSTED.

STRIKE FOR COMFORT

Dear Sir—This may not be very important, but I notice that 28 bus drivers have gone on strike in Williamson, West Virginia, for the right to wear sports shirts in the summer months.

Last year a similar situation arose in Canada when the post office department ruled that mail carriers must cling at all times to their little bow ties even when they are sweating in the sun under the heavy bag of letters. A storm of ridicule blew up throughout the country. But the department stuck to its sartorial guns.

I say that people should be comfortable. Let's throw away our neckties for the summer!

25 Survey Parties To Study Alberta Mineral Deposits Vital to Defence

A group of federal parties will swing into action throughout Alberta this week on a widespread study of mineral deposits essential to Canada's defence program.

According to word received from Hon. Geo. Prudham, minister of mines and technical surveys, there will be 11 geological parties, seven topographical parties, four legal survey parties, and three dominion observatory parties.

Several of these parties are being organized in Edmonton and Calgary to start season's operations immediately.

EDMONTON AREA

Geological work in the Edmonton area will be carried on by a party headed by P. C. Badgely, which will make a study of cretaceous well cuttings.

R. de Witt will head a party in the Peace River district to continue study of Devonian stratigraphy relating to oil and gas in the area.

E. J. W. Irish will commence one-mile geological mapping in the Copton Creek areas.

R. J. W. Douglas and E. T. Tozer will continue one-mile mapping in the Waterton area. Both areas are of interest because of their oil and gas possibilities.

Four-mile mapping of drift geology, with particular reference to soil and structural material, will be carried out by A. M. Stalker in the Red Deer area; G. B. Craig in the Rosebud area; W. T. Hat-

CIVIL DEFENCE NEEDS 30,000

Drive to recruit 30,000 volunteers for the province's civil defence program has opened in Alberta.

Campaign got underway at a special meeting held in Edmonton. Provincial Secretary C. E. Gerhart, chairman of the Alberta cabinet's civil defence committee, G. R. Howsam, the province's co-ordinator, and more than 100 industrial men and others attended the gathering.

Recruiting is the fourth phase of Alberta's civil defence plan.

field in the vicinity of Rycroft; and E. P. Henderson in the Watino area.

Studies of the palaeontology and stratigraphy of oil and gas in the southern foothills and Rockies will be continued by H. Frebold, P. Harker, and D. J. McLaren.

The staff of a regional office established in Calgary last year will examine the great number of drift cores and cuttings in that area to aid in study of the stratigraphy of the oil fields.

Topographical surveys comprise one mile to the inch mapping at Lesser Slave Lake, west of the lake, and around Grande Prairie.

In co-operation with the army survey establishment of the department national defence, boundary surveys will be made at Wood Buffalo Park, Elk Island and Banff national parks, and along the Alberta-BC and Alberta-NWT boundaries.

Program for Dominion observatories embraces work at the magnetic observatory at Meanook, just south of Athabasca, and gravity surveys in southeast Alberta.

URANIUM search in the northland has focussed on the Lake Athabasca area straddling the Alberta-Saskatchewan-N.W.T. boundary. Men and supplies are being flown in for the big exploration drive. Here supplies are being unloaded on the shore of the lake.

Northern Tract Scene Of Lumber Industry Research

(By British United Press)

A 140-acre tract has been set aside in the Fawcett area in Northern Alberta for Dominion-Provincial research into ways of increasing the growth of Alberta spruce trees, backbone of the province's lumber industry.

Alberta authorities explained that spruce, of which 283,000,000 board feet were produced in 1950, flourishes in areas where well-drained and heavily-mossed soil holds the moisture.

However, selective cutting had not brought about the desired effect of accelerating the growth of young trees in some areas. The experiment will be aimed at discovering the reason and setting out a new pattern of selective cutting to maintain and expand the spruce lumbering industry.

Officials said the area selected for the experiment contains a mixed stand consisting of 40 per cent poplar and 60 per cent spruce. The trees vary in age from 100 to 250 years. Estimated yield of the spruce at present would be from 5,000 to 20,000 board feet per acre.

Twenty-four of the finest patches of growing spruce will be chosen for the experiment, officials added. They will be combined into three blocks of eight patches each. Mature trees in each patch will be cut to determine which pattern permits the best growth in the trees.

Trees left standing will be measured immediately after logging operations are completed. They will be measured again at the end of one year, then five years and again every 10 years until maturity, officials said.

Group Tours Ranches

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Schmaltz took their three children, Belthaser, Rose and Marie on an agricultural tour last Saturday, June 16 visiting three ranches, namely, Sandy Cross ranch owned by A. E. Cross, west of Midnapore with Shorthorns; George Bull ranch with Herefords, and Chas. C. and Done Matthew ranch with the Highland Angus of Calgary.

There were 14 cars in this tour representing the following clubs: Avondale, Swallow, Rosebud and Livingston. The leaders in this group were W. D. McDonald, president Drumheller District Agricultural Society; Dr. Elliott, Swallow; H. G. Hyings, Rosebud; K. H. Walker, Strathmore; John and George Yellowlees, Carstairs; and N. F. Bell, District Agriculturist, Drumheller.

At the various ranches the club on June 13; Irricana won first money by defeating Keoma and Acme. Acme defeated Beiseker in semi-final.

members had a chance not only to see the different breeds, but also to watch them being judged.

Mr. Schmaltz says that at the ranches they were treated to pop, cookies and coffee, and that it was a day that he feels was very profitably spent. His son, Belthaser, placed third at Drumheller recently in the Avondale Club with his calf, and if it had not been for the calf getting hoof rot at that time he was informed that his calf had a very good chance of having been the champion or else reserve in that club.

In the ten years from 1939 to 1949, wages, salaries and supplementary labor income in Canada rose from a base of 100 to 298; net income of companies rose from 100 to 197 and dividends paid from 100 to 155.

Farmers Urged To Combat Grasshoppers

BEISEKER—Farmers throughout the district are urged to combat the grasshopper menace by securing grasshopper poison before it is too late.

Aldrin, a form of poison spray, is available at the municipal office in Three Hills.

Poison bait is available free of charge at the Wayne mixing station, and Aldrin can also be obtained there.

Little damage has been reported to crops yet, but the hatch of grasshopper eggs is said to be high with the recent cold snap only serving to delay hatching. The young 'hoppers are mostly found around the edges of the fields and on the roadsides. At this stage they are readily poisoned and farmers generally are taking advantage of this situation.

2,4-D chemicals are not all the same!

The cans may look the same—the liquids may look the same—but ALL chemicals are NOT the same—either in effective killing power or efficient results. That's why it pays to buy reliable chemicals—backed by a reputable maker.

NATIONAL CHEMICALS ARE RELIABLE CHEMICALS—of the purest ingredients, expertly formulated, carefully manufactured. Furthermore, the National manager in your district has been associated with chemical weed control since its inception. He is an expert—and he is aware of your local weed control problems. Discuss your chemical requirements at National Grain.

NATIONAL ESTER '64'

NATIONAL AMINE '80'

Contains 64 ounces of 2,4-D acid equivalent per gallon. Fast chemical action, penetrates rapidly, is not affected by rain. An ideal chemical for field crop spraying, and especially recommended for "hard to kill" weeds and "woody growth" on non-crop lands.

Contains 80 ounces of 2,4-D acid equivalent per gallon. Fully effective against "easy to kill" weeds, and will kill or control "hard to kill" species.

In addition to 2,4-D, National handles a complete line of other agricultural chemicals for weed and insect control.

National was first — National still leads!

LETTER TO LOUISA

Girl Finds Boy Friend Suddenly Losing Interest

A letter from a reader says that she met a boy some time ago and dated him for quite a while.

They were both interested in each other but all of a sudden he stopped coming to see her without a word of explanation.

The only reason she could think of for such action was that she had formerly gone with a girl who turned out to be not so nice. At the time, however, she had stopped going with this girl for about two months when her friend acted as he did. When she ran around with this girl, she had no idea that she was misbehaving.

She thinks that the boy heard that they were friends and came to the conclusion that they were two of a kind. She doesn't know what to do. She likes the boy very much. She hates to think he has wrong ideas about her and yet she doesn't care to run after him if he has stopped coming because he doesn't care anymore.

Answer:

I think under the circumstances, if I were in your place, I should call him by phone and ask him to see me for a short while where I could ask him why he had stopped seeing me so abruptly.

Don't let him know that you are so in love with him but just tell him that his friendship meant a lot to you and you hated to think that you had done anything that might have offended him.

If he doesn't give you a chance to explain, I don't think there is much you can do but let him alone. If a boy is in love with a girl, he will usually give her an opportunity to tell her side if he hears disagreeable stories about her.

However, it just goes to show that a girl has to be very particular about the company she keeps. She not only has to behave herself in order to protect her reputation, but she has to look the part and not give people the opportunity to suspect her of things she hasn't done.

LOUISA.

Farm Accidents Can Be Avoided If Care Taken

Farming is not a safe business but Alberta farmers can help to avoid many serious agricultural accidents by being careful when operating farm machinery.

In the rush of spring work, many farmers are neglectful of their safety. Among the careless things done to save a few minutes are operating a tractor with an unshielded power take-off drive, using wheel brakes to assist steering, filling the gas tank while the engine is running and stepping off a moving tractor to adjust a trailing implement.

Other dangerous habits which should be avoided are cranking a tractor before first checking to see that it is out of gear, operating a foot clutch by hand from the ground to attach a drawn implement, throwing a running belt from the pulley by hand, climbing over or under a running belt and wearing loose or ragged clothing near rotating shafts.

Children should not be allowed to operate, or ride on, tractors. Tractors are built so that the controls can be reached by adults, not children. Farmers are urged to take particular care in driving tractors because more farm accidents result from thoughtless use of the tractor than from any other cause.

Farmers are advised to see their implement dealers to learn the correct and safe procedures to follow when operating farm machinery.

ALBERT PRATZ, Canadian radio star who has been making a name for himself with NBC in New York, is back home in Toronto for the summer. He will be broadcasting a solo recital every Tuesday night via CBC Dominion, and will be heard as concert master on Lucio Agostini's Whispering Strings show every Sunday night.

Women Liberals Sponsor Teas

The 20th Century Liberal Women's club of Edmonton has sponsored two teas in the past week, one in the east end and one on the south side. A west end tea will be held early in the fall.

Scene of the east end tea was the home of Mrs. D. K. Lewis. Over 50 women called during the afternoon. They were received by Mrs. J. J. Clooney, president of the 20th Century club, and Mrs. Lewis. At the tea were Mrs. J. Clark, Mrs. E. M. Taylor, Mrs. Bob Marshall and Mrs. J. Gowda.

The south side tea was held at the home of Mrs. P. Miskew. Receiving were Mrs. K. G. Montgomery, president of the Alberta Women's Association, Mrs. G. Nicol and Mrs. Miskew. Pouring tea were Mrs. J. Harper Prowse, Mrs. E. Wilson, Mrs. Chas. Grant and Mrs. Wm. Hawrelak.

This tea, too, was an unqualified success, with over 50 in attendance.

The LIGHTER SIDE

Far Away

"My music teacher says I have a fine voice and should go far."
"Splendid! I'll help you pack."

Fragile

A young woman was mailing the old family Bible to her brother in a distant city. The postal clerk examined the heavy package carefully and inquired whether it contained anything breakable.

"Nothing but the Ten Commandments," was her quick reply.

A "Pick-Me-Up"

"Where's Dad?"
"Somebody made him a present of a small bottle of brandy so he's gone into the bedroom to feel faint!"

Hope So

A small boy, visiting New York for the first time, went in an elevator to the top of a skyscraper. As he shot past the 62nd floor at breath-taking speed, he gulped, turned to his father, and asked "Daddy, does God know we're coming?"

The Finer Touches

French explorers forcing a way through dense African jungles came upon a party of cannibals about to have a feast on a late enemy. The cannibal chief came forward to greet the Frenchmen in perfect French. When they showed surprise at his command of their language, he explained that he had studied in France; even took two years of French literature at the Sorbonne.

"What!" exclaimed the explorers. "You've been educated in France and yet return to feed on human flesh! It's unbelievable."

"Well, replied the chief modestly, "now I use a fork."
